

Vintage Jazz MART NEWSLETTER

NO. 2

DECEMBER 2022

Subscribe to VJM Magazine: www.vjm.biz/Subscribe.html

Like us on www.facebook.com/VJM78 #vintagejazzmart

Season's Greetings

Welcome to our December Vintage Jazz Mart Newsletter. Wishing you a Happy Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, Happy Holidays and Season's Greetings. Approaching 70 years and 200 issues distributed across five continents, VJM is dedicated to quality researched articles, record trading and reviews of the latest music, reading and other media being released. VJM is available in both hard copy and digital PDF format, and is published on the basis of friendship, camaraderie and the love of music which knows no international boundaries. Subscribe here: <http://www.vjm.biz/Subscribe.html>!

Vintage Jazz Mart 195

VJM 195 will be published in early February 2023 presenting articles and the usual features including Reviews, Colin Hancock's first Discographical Ramblings, readers' Wants and auctions of records and other jazz and blues goodies.

Other News

Archeophone Records expect their release on pioneering jazz saxophonist Loren McMurray (see <https://www.archeophone.com/upcoming/>), which Mark Berresford and Colin Hancock worked on, in early 2023. Be sure to check out Paul Swinton's stunning Frog Blues & Jazz Annual No. 6. package which features the book (340+ rare photos!), and complementary 26-track CD; and look out for two forthcoming Frog CDs Legends & The Lost and The Jug Band Special - see <https://www.frog-records.co.uk>. John Tefteller's beautiful Classic Blues Artwork from the 1920s 2023 Calendar with a free 25-track CD is available here: <https://bluesimages.com>, while other new releases include several from Liz Biddle's Upbeat Records here: <https://upbeatmailorder.co.uk>.

Brian Goggin (Editor) and Russ Shor (Associate Editor)

Whitley Bay 2023 (3-5 November)

The dates for next year are definitely 3-5 November so check the details and booking information out at <https://whitleybayjazzfest.com>. Patti Durham and her crew will of course serve up another superb weekend of classic jazz. Russ will write a full review of the 2022 party for VJM 195.

Stay well folks, keep it swinging and all the best for 2023!

Subscribe to VJM magazine here: www.vjm.biz/Subscribe.html

EDITOR: BRIAN GOGGIN (brian@vjm.biz)

ASSOCIATE EDITOR: RUSS SHOR (russellshor@cox.net)

Published on the basis of friendship, camaraderie and the love of music which knows no international boundaries.